

MORNING APPEAL

THURSDAY.....FEBRUARY 6, 1879

THE COMING MINSTREL SHOW.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West's great minstrel troupe. The Cincinnati Commercial (one of the best show critics in the United States), notices a performance by these artists as follows: "Their entertainment is absolutely free from vulgarity, and is as keenly enjoyed by the ladies as by the lords of creation, and we were gratified to see so many ladies at the Grand Opera House last evening. The first part, generally the same thing over and over, was entirely new, and was arranged by that superb negro dialect and character comedian, Milt. G. Barlow. Those who witnessed the entertainment given some months ago, by this same troupe, were forced to admit there was something new under the sun. George Wilson was in his happiest mood and fairly bubbled over with his inexhaustible mine of good things. Barlow, by request, sang "Going Home to Dixie," and—well, we need not speak in his praise. Primrose and West had everything their own way, and in comic songs and dances were huge, and were recalled four times. The singing of Carl Rudolph, tenor, George C. Denton, baritone, John Stout, second tenor, Harry Percy, alto, and C. B. Rankin, basso, was very effective and most excellent. Considered on all sides it was one of the very best minstrel entertainments we ever had the pleasure of attending."

WHERE TO GET PICTURES.

There never yet was so good an opportunity offered to get a handsome chromo or oil painting for about one tenth of its value as is offered at the picture gallery and prize envelope bazaar, in the County Building, next to Bosko's One Price Clothing Store. You pay two bits and purchase an envelope containing a nice photograph, and the first thing you know you are in possession of a magnificent landscape or sea-piece or historical or fancy picture with a splendid frame on it. Why, there never was so good a chance to get a beautiful picture for almost nothing. Don't delay going and investing. Some of the pictures are very rare and very superior.

THE CATHOLIC FAIR AND LUNCH.

There never was made so egregious a blunder as that by which, in yesterday's APPEAL, we put the Catholic Fair in the Carson Theater. It is holding, as every one knows, to get confusion, in the Opera House. Remember the lunch to-day; and so remembering, go and be refreshed of the inner man. Also to-night, fail not to be there. But stand in with outstretched hand and open wallet. The Fair last night was a brilliant success.

THE VIRGINIA CITY COMMITTEE'S RAILROAD BILLS.

Last evening's Chronicle contains the Railroad Bills drawn up by Judge Lewis and Seely and Woodburn. Our space is so much occupied with Legislative reports as to preclude the possibility of their publication in this issue. Will probably reproduce to-morrow.

NATIONAL GUARD BAIL.

We are indebted to the managers of the National Guard Ball for an invitation to that entertainment which is to take place on the night of the 21st instant. Thanks.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO BE ERECTED. The present District Attorney was elected on the Citizens' Reform Ticket. So was Assemblyman Gibson. Yet the latter introduces a bill into the Assembly to raise the District Attorney's salary $500 per annum. Had not the young Reform lawyer, who has been placed in that position, better let his constituents find out how good an officer he is before, like a modern Oliver Twist, he asks for "more?" We don't know yet that Mr. Driesbach is any better than the District Attorneys who have wrought under the present salary.

PERSONAL.—Yesterday the provincial press was well represented by Dennis McCarthy of the Virginia Evening Chronicle, Charley Goodwin of the Enterprise, John Dennis of the Tascara Times-Review, and Alf. Doten of the Gold Hill News. And yet the pure atmosphere of our sturdy little city bears us bravely through the epidemic!

CONTROLLER HOBART'S REPORT.—We are indebted to Mr. William T. Hanford for a copy of ex-Controller Hobart's final Report. It is a very voluminous document, and embraces a vast amount of valuable and instructive statistics.

BILLIARD MATCHES.—The nightly billiard matches at the Ormsby are exciting much interest, which is conclusively proven by the large crowds of witnesses who assemble there.

PERSONAL.—Mr. D. W. Earl, the well known California and Nevada forwarding merchant, arrived in this city from San Francisco yesterday morning, and he still lingers with us.

PEN PICTURES.—"Shamus O'Brien's" brief pen pictures in the Virginia Stage of the Senators and Assemblymen meet with much favor.

JOSEPH ROBINSON, a message awaits you at the Western Union Telegraph office.

NEVADA LEGISLATURE—NINTH SESSION.

Senate Thirty-First Day.

CARSON CITY, February 5, 1879. The Senate convened at 11 o'clock with President in the Chair. Quorum present. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Hammond. Minutes of previous day read and approved.
